

CV- LUCIA ANELICH

national and international food safety consulting and training business, Anelich Consulting.

Prof Lucia Anelich (PhD)
Pr.Sci.Nat.

Anelich Consulting, South Africa

25 years at Tshwane University of Technology, South Africa as HOD Biotechnology and Food Technology and Associate Professor.

- 2006: Joined Consumer Goods Council of South Africa and established a food safety body for the food industry, a first for the country.
- 2011: Started own successful

Professor Anelich was instrumental in providing guidance to the food industry on Listeria monocytogenes during the 2018 listeriosis outbreak and on SARS-CoV-2 related to food safety, during the COVID-19 pandemic, from January 2020. On both topics, she was interviewed many times for printed media, radio and TV and spoke at 17 events nationally and internationally, including conducting a webinar for the Daily Maverick on SARS-CoV-2 and safety of food.

Professor Anelich served 4 years as Food Hygiene Expert for the African Union (IBAR), authored/co-authored a number of publications and chapters in books and presented over 160 talks nationally and internationally.

Professor Anelich is:

- A Member of the ICMSF
- Adjunct Professor at Central University of Technology
- Immediate Past President of SAAFoST
- Past Chair of Scientific Council of IUFoST
- Fellow of International Academy of Food Science and Technology
- Co-editor of new book "Present Knowledge in Food Safety"
- Technical expert and consultant for FAO and UNIDO